with standard colors

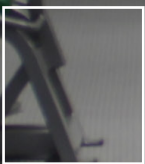

The Original Thor Victory Tile can be made in almost 23,000 possible color combinations between our speckled and marbleized options. The 100% virgin rubber color layer allows for us to get intense, vibrant visuals that are often unattainable in durable performance floors. Shattering the mentality of the traditional color selection process – The Original Thor Victory Tile puts your vision first by helping to create the perfect fit for all color palettes.

This allows for designers and decision makers alike to decide on their own color for once, not having to be restricted to the confines of whatever manufacturers decided were the best colors for the market. Color chips are available upon request.

Product SPECIFICATIONS

More than just aesthetically pleasing, the Original Thor Victory Tile is a vulcanized product – meaning a heat fusion process where multiple layers are combined into one. This method gives us an extremely durable finished good, and one that continues to impress years after installation. The top of the tiles have a glossy, hammered finish, which helps keep maintenance to a minimum when performed regularly.
